"TO FINISH SUGARING OFF."

Governor Bell Goes Home to Walden—The Governor's Conscience.

Montpelier, April 21.—Governor Bell returned to his home in Walden yesterday afternoon, as he said, "to help the boys finish up sugaring." The governor has tapped about two thousand trees this year and will can up about two tons of sugar this season. He has suggested off about half this yield himself and has been out sap gathering "just to show the boys he has not forgotten how it is done." He has received a number of letters from New York offering fancy prices for sugar made by a governor, but he says that his regular orders will take all his supply and that his conscience will not allow him to charge more than twelve cents per pound.

Governor Bell said that he is in correspondence with Attorney General Fitts arranging for a meeting of the investigating commission. It is likely that a meeting will be held the second week in May, at Waterbury.

MAPLE SUGAR CROP.

Not Quite 2½ Pounds to the Tree in Lamoille County.

Morrisville, April 21.—Up to this time it is safe to say that two pounds of maple sugar to a tree is about a fair average. Some of our buyers report less than two pounds and some of them a trifle more. Mr. Shattuck, of Eden, says two pounds is about the average in that town. H. H. Patch, of Fletcher, thinks not much more than one and one-half pounds to the tree has been made. A North Troy buyer thinks the average will be better than two pounds.

The quality has not been quite up to the average, very little comparatively real fancy sugar having been made. At least one more good run of sap is expected, therefore it is safe to predict a fair crop, but not quite up to the average, which in the last five years is called two and one-half pounds to the tree.

A Swindler in the Work House.

Sheriff H. S. Stevens of Hyde Park was notified last Thursday that a man was working a fraud in Johnson. His scheme was that he was hard up, had got strapped and in order to raise a little money to help him to get to St. Johnsbury would ask a loan on a gold ring. His scheme worked quite well. He secured a dollar or two on a ring and would then work the game on another victim, having a good supply of rings. Several rings were disposed of before the fraud got out. The sheriff traced him to Wolcott, where a ring or two was left. From there the man went to Hardwick and Sheriff Stevens found him in the postoffice, where he had just mailed a batch of rings to a partner probably in the same business elsewhere. The man, who was about 30 years of age, gave his name as R. T. Barnes and claimed to hail from Manchester, N. H. He was brought to Hyde Park and after a night's sojourn in the county hotel was taken to Johnson for trial. A hearing held there Saturday before Judge Dillingham resulted in the prisoner being fined $15 and costs which amount not being paid he was entertained by sheriff over Sunday and on Monday was taken to Rutland by the sheriff, where he will put in 116 days in polishing stone.

FIFTY YEARS

IN BUSINESS

Ex-Governor C. S. Page and His Calf Skins.

MAKE A GREAT INDUSTRY

What Energy, Enterprise, Honesty and Advertising Have Done for One Little Vermont Town.

Hyde Park, April 21.—Ex-Gov. Carroll S. Page completes fifty years in the green calfskin business today. In this 50 years there has been built up in this little village of 500 inhabitants a business of international importance. This business owes its growth to the ability and energy of Mr. Page alone. How this has been done is told by L. M. Hays in an interesting sketch of the business published in the Boston Globe.

try. They come to him from as far away as Saskatchewan, British Columbia to the west, and Cape Breton, N. S., to the east.

Hides before going to the tanner must be put through a process of curing. This is done in the Page hide house, a building located alongside of the main track of the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain railroad and covering an area of two acres.

HOW TO CURE A TERRIFIC HEADACHE

Many people suffer with an aching head week after week, occasionally getting relief from so-called headache powders and nerve-strengthening drugs. They never get cured because they start wrong. Such people should do a little common-sense thinking. Headache is simply the result, a warning signal, of a far more serious trouble. Usually it means bad blood, poisoned by an inactive or sluggish liver. Headache sufferers are often nervous, cross and irritable. Their sleep is disturbed and digestion impaired. The liver doesn't do its work right, and the bile elements poison both nerve and brain. Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills cure headache by removing the cause. They are Nature's true laxative, and give tone to liver activity, are a positive specific for biliousness and a torpid liver. Get your liver right by using Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills and your head won't ache, your nerves won't weaken, nor your food distress you. They cure headache, constipation, and biliousness in one night. Price 25 cents at all dealers.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail and I find that 'Cascarets' relieves more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a week."

placed on tables in a room, one side of which is nearly all glass, to give the best possible light. They are then divided into five distinct grades. After they have been graded for quality, they are again sub-divided for weight.

It is a universal rule that every hide and skin received on any given day must be paid for on the day following.

Those of superior quality go directly to graders of long experience for subdivision into classes, adapted to every conceivable specialty made from a calfskin. Skins are selected for toy rocking horses, for banjo heads and drum heads and for pocket books.

Mr. Page receives single orders for 50,000 pocket book calfskins at a time. Black and dark brown skins are selected for mittens and for the covers of canteens. The skins for this last named purpose are shipped to supply the armies of Europe.

Of course a large share of the skins goes into shoe leather. For the fancy colored shoe the greatest care must be exercised that there be no discoloration upon the grain or hair side.

Black skins are sold to go into what is known as "fresian" furs for overcoats, rugs, etc. Mottled skins are selected for the manufacture of fancy slippers. Indeed, there is nothing that comes from the back of a calf that is not specially selected for the requirements of those who desire specialties.

Mr. Page's selections being absolutely accurate, he is able to sell his goods in all parts of the world. Tanners have come to know that having bought any certain weight and quality of calfskin, they have only to order the same weight the cellar of which a partition was built, giving a floor space of about 400 square feet. There the young man, with an old cauldron kettle for his first vat and with a few pails of water and a little salt for his first brine, worked.

A few skins were brought him daily and thrown into the brine. Every morning the youth would spread the skins out nicely in piles and throw on some salt. After 100 or 200 skins had been accumulated, some neighboring tanner—in those days there was a tanner in almost every town—was called in to buy them. In this way the business continued for nearly five years, when larger quarters were secured.

Mr. Page's father's barn was the next hide house. By degrees the barn was enlarged until 1880, when, the business demanding a structure specially built for the purpose, a site on the main line of the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain road was chosen and a hide house 40 x 108 feet, with two floors only, was erected.

It is said that the father protested somewhat against this ambitious move on the part of his son, but his son remarked that he thought that the business would grow to it and the results have proven the wisdom of Gov. Page's predictions, for from 1880 to the present time there have been only two years in which additions have not been built, and in the year 1893 the additions alone were more than three times the size of the original plant.

The postoffice in Hyde Park has a revenue of between $5000 and $6000. The greater part of it comes from Mr. Page's business.

One would think that hides and skins were a commodity in which it would be difficult to inject much advertising enterprise, but Mr. Page has not found it so, and he makes no concealment of the fact that his success in bringing business to this little out-of-the-way village in northern Vermont is largely the result of his persistency in the use of printer's ink.

In one of the group of four connecting buildings, two of which are devoted to Mr. Page's office purposes, is the printing office of the Lamoille publishing company, of which Mr. Page is treasurer, and in passing through the various rooms and departments there is found a most approved and up-to-date system in vogue for securing and maintaining touch with all the important tanners, hide dealers, gelatine and glue manufacturers, florists, soap manufacturers, poultrymen dealers in poultry supplies, etc.

The village of Hyde Park is a typical corporation. With a population of only 422, there have been expended within its village during the past 10 years between $60,000 and $70,000 for public improvements. A new hotel has been built, costing more than $12,000, and it is one of the pleasantest hostleries in Vermont. A new Congregational church has been erected at an expense of $10,000. A Roman Catholic church has been practically rebuilt at an expense of about $4000. A new school building has been erected, costing $10,000. A system of sewerage, as complete and perfect as found in the larger cities, has been put in during the last four years, and, last but not least, an electric light and power plant costing more than $35,000 has been installed. It is said that there is no place in the state where the buildings are so generally owned by the occupants as in Hyde Park, and it is an indisputable fact that on the main street of the village there isn't a single unkept house nor one which is in an unkempt or untidy condition.

There are two banks, having assets of more than a million dollars, of which Mr. Page is the president, the Lamoille county national bank and the Lamoille county savings bank and trust company.
